

4.920 COMMITTEES OF PRESBYTERY: COMMITTEE ON MINISTRY, PASTOR NOMINATING COMMITTEE

4.922 Pastor Nominating Committee "Face-to-Face" Interviews

The Committee on Ministry generally recommends participation by a Pastor Nominating Committee in "Face-to-Face" events. The following concerns should be noted by the Pastor Nominating Committee and the Committee on Ministry:

- A. Attendance at a Face-to-Face is totally open and does not imply any endorsement by the sponsoring Presbytery;
- B. The Pastor Nominating Committee should notify the Committee on Ministry of its intention to attend a Face-to-Face;
- C. The Pastor Nominating Committee should, immediately upon its return from the Face-to-Face, share with the Committee on Ministry photocopies of any Personal Information Forms distributed by every candidate which they interviewed for which the committee intends any pursuit of interest;
- D. The Pastor Nominating Committee, even though a full dossier has been placed in its hands at the Face-to-Face, will act as if it is dealing with a new dossier;
- E. The Pastor Nominating Committee must not short cut its telephone check on references;
- F. The Committee on Ministry and Presbytery staff must be given full opportunity to do its reference check;
- G. The Pastor Nominating Committee may not set up a time for a Pastor Nominating Committee to interview a potential candidate at their church site until they have clearance from the Committee on Ministry.
